

Cookie statement

This cookie statement was modified: 27/4/2021

This website em3.ie (hereafter referred to as “Website”) uses cookies.

A cookie is a small text file that we send to your internet browser so that we are able to recognise your browser when you return. If we mention cookies in this statement, we also mean all other similar technologies (tags, scripts, etc.). Cookies can collect data on the use of the Website such as which pages are visited and the duration of a user session. When you use the Website, the cookie sends data to EM3 (hereafter referred to as “Our Company”, we or us).

The cookies itself but also the data collected by means of the cookies can constitute personal data. Learn more about what personal data we process, how and on what grounds and your rights in our Privacy Statement.

Our Company does not retain a cookie longer than necessary

We use session cookies and permanent cookies:

- A session cookie can track usage such as the webpages you visit and what options you use. When you close the internet browser, the session is ended and the cookie is deleted.
- A permanent cookie enables the Website to recognize you at a subsequent visit.

Functional or strictly necessary cookies

Our Company stores cookies that are essential in providing the functionalities of the Website. If you do not wish to receive any cookies at all, you may set your browser to refuse cookies all together. Please note that in that case you may no longer be able to use all the functionalities of the Website.

Non-strictly necessary cookies

Only if you have given prior consent, Our Company places cookies that are not strictly necessary for providing the functionalities of the Website. Through such non-strictly necessary cookies we collect information about your use of the Website and we remember your preferences. Examples of collected information are which pages are visited and the length of a user session. Through these cookies we aim to improve your user experience of our Website. If you do not consent to cookies being placed, these cookies will be blocked.
