

EM3 is a place where you can bring your best self to life through the work that you do.

HOW YOU'LL FEEL

Welcomed Trusted Challenged Inspired Valued Heard

We are a team with employees from over 18 different countries, and we support an inclusive culture in which everyone, regardless of gender, race, religion, age, or background, can do their best work. We are culturally diverse and truly believe every role in our business is equally important in helping us to achieve our goals. Everything we do is built on a foundation of safety and trust.

"You'll be surrounded by caring and passionate team members who share your values, commitment, and desire to create a better environment and a better world."

Our company culture provides a supportive environment that truly allows you to reach your potential and to really make a difference. We ask our employees to be open minded, to embrace new ways of working, to continuously learn, and when needed, to step out of their comfort zones.

Opportunities to progress, to develop and to be recognised for your achievements is part of daily life. Together with your commitment, drive, and personal performance, we believe you can bring out the best in yourself at EM3.
